Dear colleague,

It is my pleasure to introduce you to the Good School Toolkit and the opportunities it offers. The Toolkit enables teachers and administrators to excel as educators. It enables schools to become the pride of their communities. It enables students to gain greater skills, knowledge and confidence—for becoming the parents, professionals and leaders of our future.

This Introductory Package includes the following:

- The Good School Toolkit: An Overview
  A summary of what it means to implement the Toolkit at your school.

- What is a Good School? A Companion for Teachers and Students
  A colourful summary of the Toolkit’s ideas, ideal for leaving in the classroom or office.

- Four Cartoon Booklets
  A collection of illustrated stories that introduce what it means to create a Good School.

This Introductory Package will explain the Toolkit and all its possibilities. Once you begin using the Toolkit, you will become connected to a network of likeminded educators, equally inspired to make their schools the best they can be.

If you would like to use the Toolkit at your school (and have not yet told us), please call or email, and we will forward your next package immediately. See reverse for notes about gaining administrative approval.

Best Wishes,

Dipak Naker

Gaining Approval for the Good School Toolkit

- Begin by reading the information in this Introductory Package.
- Start a new exercise book, and write down key points to emphasise with administrative leaders.
- Determine who you need to talk to and in what order.
- Decide whether to verbally present the project or provide the Introductory Package in advance.
- Before meeting with administrative leaders, write down all the questions you suspect they will ask, and draft answers.
- If approval is not determined within your first meeting, ask if any further information would be helpful.
- Contact Raising Voices if you require further information or materials to gain approval.
- Once you gain approval, continue to update and involve the leadership to retain their connection and commitment to the project.
